

TEDDY TAKES TO THE WOODS

President is Now Seeking Big Game in the Wilds of Mississippi.

DOES NOT NEED WARNING LETTER

(News-Democrat Leased Wire Service.)
Memphis, Nov. 13. — President Roosevelt is now in the woods and it's up to the bears to give him a good time.

On the way down here the president received a warning in a letter that an attempt would be made to assassinate him. The president has paid no attention to these warnings in the past and paid none to this.

He has kept the secret service men on edge by disregarding their precaution. He said today: "If any one really intends to get me I cannot do anything to keep him from it."

The president has often said when urged to be more careful by Secretary Cortelyou or others about him: "I do not intend to make myself miserable by dodging imaginary enemies. If any comes I will do the best I can at the time to defend myself."

NEGRO WAS EXPOSED TO COLD AND LIQUOR

Man Wandered into Canton Wednesday and Slept in the Cold.

(An unknown colored man was found in a wagon in an alley in the rear of Miller & Blanchard's barn at an early hour Thursday morning suffering much agony. The man had crept into the wagon sometime during the night and was exposed to the cold until found this morning.

It was evident that the man was on the verge of delirium tremens. That condition with the exposure to the cold makes his condition critical. Dr. Brant was called and administered drugs to soothe him, but apparently without effect.

The man was removed to the police station an hour later and Dr. Brant again called. The man continued his frantic ravings. The police authorities turned him over to the township trustees who caused him to be removed to the hospital at the county infirmary. He is in a critical condition but it is expected he will recover. When asked his name he could not tell it. He murmured, however, that he came to Canton late last night and that his home is in Baltimore. Letters in his pocket indicate that his name is J. Kennedy.

Chief Knap said: "I expect within a short time to have every house in the city closed." Toledo has gained a reputation as a wide-open gambling city and for a month the authorities have been conducting an investigation with an idea of putting an end to it.

A Thousand Lives Have Been Lost by Series of Frightful Eruptions in Guatemala.

CROPS KILLED AND FAMINE IMMINENT

San Francisco, Nov. 13. — The Pacific mail steamer Newport, which arrived from Central America Wednesday, brought details of the eruption of the volcano of Santa Maria, which spread ruin over a section of Northern Guatemala on Oct. 2.

Advises brought by the Newport show that Guatemala is using every effort to suppress the facts concerning the eruption and to minimize the amount of damage.

The news brought by the Newport amounts to almost positive proof that many lives were lost as a result of the fall of ashes from the volcano, that thousands of horses, cattle and other animals were killed and that the rich coffee districts of the republic are ruined.

It is reported that the loss of the new crop of coffee will amount to 300,000 cents or 15,000 tons.

Some of the finest and most expensive plantations in Guatemala are entirely ruined and the rate of exchange has arisen to 1,200 per cent.

Roads and bridges leading inland from Champerico were ruined by the weight of ashes, mud, and stones falling from great heights.

Some of those on the Newport said that fully a thousand persons perished in the upheaval.

At Champerico, however, the conditions were such that the news could not be suppressed. The whole town and the long pier that just into the sea were covered during the Newport's visit, by a heavy cloak of white ashes resembling a fall of snow, and the shower of ashes that still continued and covered the steamer's decks made breathing difficult.

The destruction of crops and live stock in the interior makes a famine imminent. One firm with headquarters at Champerico offered $2,000 to any one who would go to their plantation near the volcano and obtain definite information of conditions there, but no one would take the risk.

SOUVENIRS TO BE SOLD

McKinley Memorial Association Will Devote First Batch to Department Stores.

PROOF OF REVISED DESIGN RECEIVED

A plan has been suggested to the National McKinley Memorial association whereby it is expected that at least a good part of the amount yet needed to complete the memorial monument fund may be raised. The suggestion comes from a large department store in New York. Secretary Fred Hartzell, of the association, says that he considers the suggestion a good one and that it will be carried out.

The suggestion is that the memorial souvenirs, which will soon be ready for distribution, be distributed in the large department stores of the larger cities and there be offered to anyone who contributes one dollar or more. It is contended that in these stores where thousands of people enter every day notice will be taken of the souvenirs and results will be immediately apparent.

Secretary Hartzell says he will send to several of the big department stores the first lot of the souvenirs that is received and thereby give the new plan a test.

A proof of the memorial souvenir has been received at memorial headquarters from Tiffany & Co., who are making the steel engraving. The souvenir is artistic in design having in the upper middle of the face a vignette of the late President McKinley and on one side an engraved portrait of the late president's Canton home and on the other a portrait of the white house. Below is a blank line on which to write the name of the person contributing to the memorial monument fund.

The formal transfer of the property of the Canton Brewing company to the McKinley memorial association was made Wednesday and the money paid over. The agreement for the sale had been made a week ago. The tract contains five and three-fourths acres. The consideration was $14,000.
